

Precautions for Clients Dealing in Options

1. Kindly do not share with anyone (including any of our employees or agents) your login ID and password for online trading mobile app, online trading access through any other medium and that of back-office client login . Such sharing of credentials may put your savings to great risk.
2. Refrain from trading in any leverage products like futures and options without having understood its risks and without ascertaining whether the same is suitable to your risk appetite or not.
3. Trading in options based on tips or advice from unregistered entities without understanding risks and potential losses arising out of such trades is very perilous.
4. Dealing in securities market including futures & options segment based on unsolicited tips, advice or recommendations through WhatsApp, SMS, telegram, YouTube or any other means of communication is injurious to wealth and mental peace.